FOREWORD

A warm greeting from the Editorial Board of Journal of Techno-social. We are delighted to reach you again and hope everyone is fine and in good health. As promised, in this issue we present to you with some selected papers which had been presented in the Asian Conference on Real Estate 2011 (ACRE 2011), organized by Universiti Tun Hussein Onn Malaysia, Batu Pahat, Johor in October, 2011. The selected papers are those pertaining to automated property valuation model, benchmarking space use study, riverfront development in Malaysia, life cycle costing for Malaysian Property development and last but not least interesting, the impact of construction supply chain on management system.

Congratulations to the authors whose papers have been selected for this publication. We may try to include the other papers in the next issue. Until the next issue, happy reading and wish you all the best.

Regards.
